Eugene Kim is an experienced business litigation attorney. He has tried numerous cases to verdicts before judges, juries and arbitrators. He has a record of success in resolving a broad variety of business and commercial disputes, and specializes in real estate and intellectual property law. He represents real estate developers, financial institutions, software engineers, and entertainment companies in protecting their legal rights.

Eugene Kim has been resolving legal issues at an early age. As the son of immigrant parents that have owned and operated several small business, he was the intermediary by which his family was able to communicate with vendors, customers, and employees. Therefore, he quickly became familiar with various legal issues encountered by small businesses and learned how to resolve them. Mr. Kim parlayed these skills into a business degree at the University of Southern California. Thereafter, he obtained a law degree at Southwestern University School of Law, where he served on the Law Review and Moot Court.

Eugene Kim has now gained a reputation as one of the preeminent trial attorneys in California. Amongst his accomplishments, Mr. Kim successfully defended a real estate developer at trial in CEQA litigation, negotiated a multi-million dollar settlement in a copyright infringement case involving a popular facebook application, and prosecuted an Anti-Cybersquatting case to judgment. Mr. Kim consistently achieves favorable results for his clients by understanding each client's goals, and coming up with creative arguments and pragmatic solutions to achieve them.
