

Ten Gresham Savage Attorneys Make List of Best Lawyers in Region

(RIVERSIDE, CALIF.)—Inland Empire magazine has named 10 Gresham Savage attorneys on its list of the best lawyers in the region.

The list, which appears in the November 2009 issue, is based on legal industry rankings provided by Martindale-Hubbell Law Directory. The firm conducts confidential surveys of judges and fellow attorneys to assess an attorney's legal ability and professional ethics.

In compiling its list of the region's best, the magazine considers only those attorneys who receive Martindale-Hubbell's highest rating, denoting the attorney as "pre-eminent and highly recommended."

Among those who earned this designation are: from Gresham Savage's Riverside office, Marlene Allen-Hammarlund, James Good and John Nolan; from the San Bernardino office, Allen Gresham and William Tilden; and practicing at both locations, Mark Ostoich, Ernie Riffenburgh, Phil Savage IV, Kenneth Stream and Theodore Stream.

The issue also included a profile on Gresham Savage President and CEO Mark Ostoich, highlighting his expertise in real estate law.

With a 100-year track record of winning strategies and winning cases, Gresham Savage is the widely recognized leader for business, litigation, real estate, environmental and land use law in the Inland Southern California region. The firm's many attorneys, with offices in both San Bernardino and Riverside counties, Calif., provide counsel to local, regional and Fortune 500 companies. Gresham Savage is one of the region's largest and most influential full service law firms, offering expertise across a wide range of practice areas.

—end—